Valereum Approved to Acquire Gibraltar Stock Exchange

Valereum Plc is pleased to announce that it has received consent from the Gibraltar Financial Services Commission (“GFSC”) to complete the acquisition of the Gibraltar Stock Exchange (“GSX”). This is subject only to conventional conditions pertaining to regulatory and working capital as required.

This will create the foundation of a new international network headquartered in Gibraltar. The future focus of the GSX will be to expand the access to European capital for early stage and small-cap companies in the Middle East, India and Africa where there is a huge opportunity to empower entrepreneurs across the region. There is a significant gap in the available small cap markets where we will provide solutions building from the ecosystem of accelerators and incubators through a full suite of private and public markets. This will provide a new transnational access to capital.

In addition Valereum will be launching its NFT strategy in the first quarter of next year linking real world assets via NFT ownership.

Full details of Valereum’s strategy will be announced as the changes occur.

In addition Valereum is delighted to announce that its candidates for the new board of the GSX have all been approved by the GFSC.

These appointments will officially take place with the completion of the change of control process.

Chairman: Richard Poulden, the Chairman of Valereum Plc.

Executive Director: Patrick L Young

Chief Financial Officer: Jack Sun

Non-Executive Directors:

Simon Brickles

James Lasry

The acquisition is expected to be completed in the first quarter of 2023.

Chairman Richard Poulden noted:

“We are delighted to have received this news from the GFSC and look forward to completing the acquisition of the GSX. It is auspicious to be announcing this on the day of the Gibraltar Financial Services Lunch in London.

We have ambitious plans for the GSX and for Valereum linking the fiat and digital worlds. All our expansion plans will be fully regulated in the environments in which we plan to operate.

The GSX will harness proven exchange technology from established providers and will be updated with full front to back trading and clearing functionality on a significant scale and expandability.

Just as The Rock of Gibraltar has been a physical port for centuries, GSX will encourage a new generation of companies and assets to see Gibraltar as a virtual node in financial trade. In time we will seek an international listing for the Valereum group as we see this as a compelling investment proposition.

We have created an excellent board to move the exchange forward and I am particularly pleased that Simon Brickles will remain as a Non-Executive Board member providing counsel from his extensive knowledge of exchanges and as the founding Father of the London Stock Exchange's Alternative Investment Market ("AIM").

Equally our robust governance structure includes James Lasry, a Partner at Hassans International Law Firm Limited where he is Head of Funds and Deputy Head of Financial Services. James has been a stalwart at the epicenter of Gibraltar's financial centre development particularly in the funds segment.

Patrick L Young has been invaluable to Valereum already in helping plan our strategy and he brings a wealth of knowledge and forward thinking to the business of exchanges."
